Letters from a Pastor to his People

Dear Parishioners,

I love our opening line from St. Paul in our second reading: “We are always courageous.”

Paul isn’t arrogant. He’s realistic. He and the disciples have the Holy Spirit, and so they can be courageous. They might be imprisoned, slandered, beaten, or rejected. It doesn’t matter to them. God is with them. They are doing

God’s will, and that gives them peace. And should the worst possible thing happen to them or their loved ones—they die—then they’ll be with God in heaven. This fact gives them the ability to do anything for God. It gives them courage.

It didn’t mean Paul didn’t feel nervousness or some fear before going into a difficult situation. He was still a man. But he didn’t back down from the mission, and he didn’t let fear overpower him to the point that he experienced intense dread or misery. Paul was a joyful individual.

The enemy always wants us to feel small. He wants our problems to appear insurmountable to us; like there’s no solution and that we are alone. We know this is wrong and that it is a lie, but what we know in our minds can be different than what we feel in our hearts. We know God is with us, and yet we feel anxiety over some challenge we’re facing. This anxiety leads us to wither and not take up the challenge. We become angry, irritable, selfish, or depressed. What has happened then is that we have lost our courage. We have become pusillanimous (from the Latin for “small heart”).

How does this follow? Well, every single one of us is called to a mission. We are called, in some fashion, to bring the love of God to others. It might be just with your immediate family. It might be with the people you work with. It might be with your fellow parishioners. When I say “bring the love of God to others” I’m not saying indoctrinate them. “Evangelizing” can take the form of listening to someone and being present to them. Think also of the corporal works of mercy.

When we lack courage in the face of our issues and listen to the enemy, we don’t have the power to do the mission. We are so caught up in ourselves that we aren’t considering others. We don’t have courage to go out and serve.

Paul had every reason to wilt. He experienced some pretty intense suffering and darkness. But he always listened to the voice of Jesus, who encouraged him and assured him of the goodness of his life and of his work. Paul believed in our Lord, and so was able to do great things.

This is why Jesus says all you need is “faith the size of a mustard seed.” If you truly trust in Jesus, you will have courage, and nothing will hold you back from doing God’s will.

So, the next time you face a challenge or an issue, don’t lament it. Look at it as an opportunity to exercise your faith and rely on God. Our Lord will bring you through it, and the whole experience will have been a blessed one for you.

This weekend we welcome Fr. Peter Muojekwu from the Fada Pita Organization for the Archdiocesan annual Mission Appeal. Fada Pita provides food, health care, and education for struggling areas in Africa. The group and its priests also engage the youth by organizing sports and other activities for these underprivileged children. Thank you for receiving Fr. Peter and for your generosity.

I have been away this past week on my annual silent retreat and will be finishing this Monday. However, all priests will be offsite at the Archdiocesan Priest Convocation this Monday evening through Thursday evening. The Convocation occurs every 2-3 years and is a time for priests to gather together to pray, socialize, and hear talks from various speakers. Please pray for us while we are away and know that we will be praying for you.

Due to the Convocation, there will be no 6:25 a.m. Mass on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, June 18-20. We will instead have a communion service led by one of the deacons at 6:25am. There will still be an 8:30am Mass this week, however there will not be confessions at 8am Tuesday-Thursday.

Next Tuesday, June 25th at 7pm we will have a Young Adult Gathering at Harp and Fiddle. Please invite your friends and children.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. James Wallace

Catholic Reflections

RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Whenever someone begins a sentence with, “This parable means...” I roll my eyes. (Sometimes I do this inwardly, to be polite. But I still do it.)

We have a tendency to treat the parables like our mom’s favorite casserole recipe. Ah yes, we think as we sit down to dinner, smiling as we inhale the aroma of childhood. Good ol’ mushy-chicken-rice-thing. I recognize you. I know exactly what you are. I don’t even have to think about you.

Parables are often presented as an example of how God stoops to meet the limits of human understanding: truth, but in a cute little story! And while it’s certainly true that the parables of Christ — each word, each detail, each character — are painstakingly crafted to suit the imagination and intelligence of man, we need to be careful how we think about that.

Sometimes we have a tendency to think of parables as simple and formulaic. We consign them to the genre of bedtime stories, whose point is to soothe, to lull. But these are stories that are meant to keep us awake. They are meant to keep us wondering.

When Christ spoke of the mustard seed, he was speaking the truth in words that his disciples needed to hear two thousand years ago. But he was also speaking to you today. And he was speaking to you tomorrow, and next year, and three years from now, and on your deathbed. If you read this parable on each of those occasions, you will hear something different each time. The parable, you see, is something alive.

It doesn’t change, exactly, because the truth never changes. But people change, and what they need to hear changes too.

Don’t ever make the mistake of thinking you can finish Jesus’ sentences.

“With many such parables he spoke the word to them as they were able to understand it.” — Mark 4:33

Congratulations to Mike Marrese, SPC Sacristan and Liturgical Minister Coordinator

This year’s recipient of the Notre Dame College Prep Rev. Joseph C. Stroot Memorial Award for Distinguished Service is Mike Marrese ‘73. Presented to an alumnus of Notre Dame College Prep who models a life of leadership, loyalty and education to the traditions and mission of the school, the award honors the late NDCP educator, who embodied all of those characteristics.

NDCP’s Senior Director of Development, Marrese oversees all of the fundraising efforts for the Dons, while also working closely with parent clubs and volunteers. Always quick to lend a helping hand, Marrese also is widely known as the “Voice of the Dons,” handling public address duties for Notre Dame football and basketball home games.

“Mike embodies everything a Notre Dame Don should aspire to be,” NDCP President Shay Boyle said. “He is always here to help others and he embodies our Holy Cross value of hospitality to all alumni, students, parents, and donors at Notre Dame College Prep. Mike makes Notre Dame a better place and his tireless work ethic has greatly impacted our fundraising efforts to advance our enrollment, scholarships, and campus improvements.”

New Cross Graces Food Pantry

Jeff, Avenues to Independence resident and program participant, was commissioned by St. Paul of the Cross, Park Ridge, IL to create a watercolor piece of artwork for their food pantry in Park Ridge. Jeff was ecstatic about this request. After several weeks of hard work, he finished the painting. The piece was titled Sunrise and Serenity and was displayed at the Creative Avenues Art Show Iannelli Studios Heritage Center for several weekends in May before making its permanent home at the food pantry. Last week, St. Paul of the Cross hosted a small reveal party with volunteers and Avenues staff so that Jeff could show off his beautiful artwork. Father James and Father Nick were around to bless and partake in the event.

Archive Corner

From time to time, the Archive Corner enjoys delving into the collection of over 8,000 photos we have gathered over the years to share some of the faces that have been part of our Parish Faith Community. As we celebrate our 113th Anniversary this month, we'd like to highlight Father Scannell, our founding Pastor. The pictures below were all taken during his tenor.

Ministry Corner

Ministry of Lectors

One of the hardest ministries to find volunteers for is often that of lector. The idea of public speaking and standing in front of the congregation to proclaim the Word can produce anxiety in many. Since Vatican II, when the priest typically handed over the duties of proclaiming the readings, the ministry of lector has been opened to the lay faithful. It is a great grace to participate in the liturgy, whether as a Eucharistic minister, altar server, choir member, or if you have the courage to read the Word. Remember, Jesus too was a lector. In Luke 4:17, it says, "The scroll of the prophet Isaiah was handed to Jesus. He unrolled the scroll and found the place where it was written..."

If you are interested in becoming a lector, reach out to me. It is a great way to participate and serve in the Church while growing in knowledge of God's life-saving and transformative Word.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Nick
